EnerNOC Wins Environmental Business Council of New England Corporate Leadership Award

BOSTON, June 13, 2013 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EnerNOC, Inc. (Nasdaq:ENOC), a leading provider of energy intelligence software, is honored to be the recipient of the 2013 Environmental Business Council of New England (EBC) John A.S.

McGlennon Environmental-Energy Award for Corporate Leadership. Winners were celebrated last night at the EBC's 23rd Annual Meeting at the Renaissance Waterfront Hotel in Boston's Seaport District.

Each year, the EBC recognizes companies, organizations, and individuals for outstanding environmental and energy accomplishments in the promotion of a sustainable, clean environment. This award presented to EnerNOC recognizes outstanding environmental leadership and commitment to the development of innovative energy management software that increases the role of energy efficiency and demand response.

"We're honored to receive this award from the Environmental Business Council of New England," said Tim Healy, Chairman and CEO of EnerNOC. "Our mission is to change the way the world uses energy and recognition like this reaffirms that we are making a positive impact."

EnerNOC has received several leadership awards. In 2012, EnerNOC was named the New England Clean Energy Council's Employer of the Year, received a Platts Global Energy Award for Industry Leadership, was ranked among the "Fastest Growing Companies in North America" on Deloitte's 2012 Technology Fast 500, and Chairman and CEO Tim Healy was named "CEO of the Year" by the Massachusetts Technology Leadership Council (MassTLC). EnerNOC has also received numerous sustainability and workplace awards, including ranking as one of the 2013 Best Places to Work by the Boston Business Journal. EnerNOC also received a 2013 Boston Business Journal Best Green Practices Workplace award and the 2012 New England Clean Energy Council Employer of the Year award.
