Technology Industry Leader Kirk Arnold Joins EnerNOC Board of Directors

BOSTON, Dec. 12, 2014 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EnerNOC, Inc. (Nasdaq:ENOC), a leading provider of energy intelligence software (EIS), today announced the addition of software and services executive Kirk Arnold to its Board of Directors. Ms. Arnold is CEO of Data Intensity, the industry leader in managed and cloud services for Oracle technologies and applications. Prior to joining Data Intensity, Ms. Arnold was COO at Avid, a technology provider to the media industry. Before Avid, she was CEO and President of Keane, Inc., then a publicly traded billion-dollar global services provider. Earlier in her career, Ms. Arnold held senior leadership roles at Computer Sciences Corporation, Fidelity Investments, and IBM. She was also founder and CEO of Nervewire, a technology and consulting service provider.

"Kirk's experience overseeing the growth of technologies that have become critical to the business operations of many leading enterprises make her exceptionally well-suited to be a valuable contributor to EnerNOC's Board of Directors," said Tim Healy, Chairman and CEO of EnerNOC. "As energy intelligence software increasingly becomes a top-of-mind investment for organizations looking to maintain a competitive edge, we look forward to leveraging Kirk's expertise in accelerating category development and adoption of EnerNOC's software by both enterprises and utilities."

Ms. Arnold also serves on the Advisory Board of Cramer, a marketing agency, and is Co-Chair of the Massachusetts Technology Leadership Council's Board of Directors. She is also a Lecturer at MIT's Sloan School of Management where she teaches sales management. Ms. Arnold holds a bachelor's degree from Dartmouth College.

"It's exciting to see how quickly organizations are adopting energy intelligence software, and the many successes EnerNOC has had staking out a clear leadership position in this emerging market," said Ms. Arnold. "I look forward to sharing my knowledge of technology industry best practices with the EnerNOC team as the company continues to expand its software and services globally."
