EnerNOC Announces Call for Nominations for 2016 Energy Innovator Award

BOSTON, Feb. 04, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EnerNOC, Inc. (Nasdaq:ENOC), a leading provider of energy intelligence software (EIS), announced today that it is accepting nominations for its EnergySMART Energy Innovator award. The Energy Innovator award recognizes individuals who have used insights from energy intelligence software to solve one of their organization's biggest business challenges. Winners will be announced at the global EnergySMART 2016 conference in Washington, DC, April 4-6 at the Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center.

"EnergySMART is focused on helping enterprises and utilities navigate this period of rapid transformation by giving attendees actionable insights," said Fielder Hiss, Vice President of Marketing and Product Management at EnerNOC. "The Energy Innovator award recognizes individuals who are driving change in their organizations by using energy intelligence software to address their business challenges."

Nominations are open to employees of any utility or enterprise. Submissions will be evaluated based on nomination strength, innovative approach, and overall impact.

EnergySMART 2016 will feature strategies for rethinking energy management and a spectrum of best practices. Sessions will be organized along five tracks: Utilities & Energy Retailers; Businesses; Energy Champions; Industry Roundtables; and EnerNOC U, focused on maximizing value from EnerNOC's products. The conference also features content targeted toward C-level executives.

The conference will include keynote addresses from General Colin L. Powell, USA (Ret.), strategic energy advisor to Kleiner Perkins; Andrew Winston, author of The Big Pivot and expert on sustainability and strategic business practices; and Daniel Pink, motivational speaker and best-selling author of A Whole New Mind and Drive.
